What happens to my food waste?

Food and garden waste collected through the brown bin service is recycled into compost using in vessel composting techniques.

Food & garden waste

- Shredded
- Broken down in an enclosed vessel with oxygen
- Laid into piles to continue breaking down
- Screened to remove any large clumps
- Nutrient-rich compost produced
- Compost to help grow plants

in vessel composting cycle

All your food and garden waste is recycled into New Leaf Compost.

Your recycling is really making a difference — thanks!
